I strongly disagree with the findings from South Staff on Linthouse Lane Essington Green Belt release.

1) Doctors there is no planning to build one on this site, with potentially with 8000 people will be living on this site.

With Doctors in Wolverhampton all full and not able to expand them as most are surrounded by housing.

plus Doctors are shorting there working hours and most leaving the profession . This will course major delays and waiting times to increase in Wolverhampton which is not acceptable.

2)Wolverhampton/ Wednesfield has had many developments over the years The Marches The old Jennie Lee Centre Bentley Bridge

3) Its a working Green Belt Farm producing Wheat, which is being reported shortages in years to come

4)Heritage The King Charles 11 walk path should not just be a plaque in the middle of this site

5)Wildlife there are Bats at the back of Woodend Road from buildings which join this Green Belt they are protected by law and there habitats, breeding ground.

6)Infrastructure as all the openings are coming out over Wolverhampton side the road network will not take average extra 7000 car around our roads in Wednesfield in already over populated area.

7)With housing targets being changed by the Government and making it harder to build on Green Belts and Agriculture Land this land is both and this Green Belt is a breather from pollution. This will join Essington and Wednesfield together as a Urban Sprawl which I believe Michael Gove is against.

We have very little Green Belts Wolverhampton North East and have to rely on South Staffs for it and now they want to build over it. Where's our Green Belt to enjoy if anything Covid 19 has taught us all , is that Green Spaces are important. I do believe that South Staffs gave a high figure for housing 4000, which there was no need to and have manipulated the findings . This development will change the outlook for Wednesfield and, we should be able to have a say how we want to live our lives not Councillors who have decided that, who don't even live in Wednesfield or Essington .
